Two Coal Barges Hit Bridge Pier

Sunday Evening Two Loaded Barges, Part of Southbound Train of Cornell Line, Crashed Into Poughkeepsie Bridge Pier, Causing Damage to Pier and Barges.

Two coal barges, loaded with coal, were struck by the rear of a train of the Cornell University Railroad, Sunday evening, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The train, consisting of a locomotive and four passenger cars, was traveling southward on the railroad, which runs parallel to the Hudson River. The train struck the pier of the Poughkeepsie Bridge, causing damage to the pier and the barges. The barges were carrying coal for the New York City Water Supply Commission. The train was operated by the Cornell University Railroad, which is a private railroad. The accident caused a delay in the train and the barges. The damage to the pier was estimated at $10,000. The barges were damaged beyond repair. The train was delayed for several hours. The accident was caused by the train being too close to the pier. The train was traveling at a speed of 15 miles per hour. The pier was struck by the rear of the train. The barges were struck by the front of the train. The accident was a serious one. It caused a delay in the train and the barges. The damage to the pier was estimated at $10,000. The barges were damaged beyond repair. The train was delayed for several hours. Associates Honor John Burroughs

John Burroughs Memorial Association Listens to Address on Work of Great Naturalist—Association Prize Goes to Thompson Seton.

The memory of John Burroughs, naturalist, whose ninetieth birthday anniversary was celebrated Sunday, was observed Saturday afternoon at the annual meeting of the John Burroughs Memorial Association in the auditorium of the American Museum of Natural History, New York city. Dr. Clyde Fisher, president of the association presided.

A feature was the presentation of the medal of the association to Ernest Thompson Seton for his four-volume work, "The Lives of the Game Animals." This medal is awarded each year to the author who has produced what is considered the best piece of nature literature.

In presenting the certificate for the medal, which is the work of Mrs. Gertrude E. Lieder, sculptor, Dr. Fisher said Mr. Seton belonged as much to the boys and girls of this country as to the naturalists and technical scientists.

Mr. Seton, who was born in England, told of his friendship with Mr. Burroughs, and how as a youth he had gained inspiration from one of the naturalist's books.

Dr. Fisher in his introductory address emphasized that Mr. Burroughs' great contribution was in "putting himself into the facts he gave in opening the eyes of the world to the beauties of nature." The Rev. Dr. Arthur Wakefield Slater, pastor of the West Side Unitarian Church, referred to Mr. Burroughs as "the great literary naturalist."

Dr. Clara Barrus, a friend of Mr. Burroughs for many years, and chosen by him to be his literary executor and official biographer, spoke of the life of the naturalist at Woodchuck Lodge, in the Catskills, where he made his midsummer home for the last thirteen years of his life.

A poem dedicated to Mr. Burroughs by Edwin Markham was read by Mrs. Markham. A motion picture of Mr. Burroughs in natural colors was also shown, and there were songs by Miss Margaret Maxwell of the Chicago Opera Company and James Stanley, with Miss Eleanor Stanley at the piano.

At the business meeting which followed the program, the officers and six members of the board of directors were re-elected. Professor William Lyon Phelps of Yale University was chosen director in place of Carl E. Akeley, explorer, who died recently in Africa.

Credibility of Ignorance

Events Around The Empire State

(By The Associated Press)

Albany—Having held out until the last breath of the legislature in the vain hope that a reduction in the state income tax might be passed for the fourth consecutive year, the army of New York state residents whose earnings must be reported are hurrying their returns to the Income Tax Bureau here and to the Branch offices. Although estimates as to the revenue to be received by the state from this source are available, the Comptroller's office earlier in the year placed it at $22,000,000. Officials foresee a larger collection this year, not only because there has been no reduction but because the federal income tax receipts on March 15 were larger.

Haselton—Two full-grown Canada lynx are ranging the mountains near the west branch of the Au Sable river. The big cats have evaded all traps set for them.

Saratoga Springs—Saratoga county is raising $2,500 for a solid silver center piece for the mess table of the navy airplane carrier Saratoga, which is to be commissioned in August. The piece is to be sixteen and a half inches high, ten and a half inches wide and twenty-four inches long. In addition to the lettering "Saratoga" it will be decorated with figures of Indians, reminiscent of the early days of the country. The American Legion is now conducting the drive for the fund.

Albany—A tree, grown from a slip of the elm under which General Burgoyne surrendered at Schuylerville, will be transferred from its present location in the yard of Cuyler Reynolds, city historian, to the grounds of the Schuylerville mansion here. It was in this old house that the defeated British general passed the night after his surrender. The original Burgoyne elm was destroyed by fire several years ago.

Lawrence—The skilled artisan is not always to be found in the great city. Asahel Ferris of this Adirondack hamlet has just turned out a bit of cabinet work for the lodge rooms of the Macabees which his friends say is equal to the handwork of the best craftsmen. He made by hand an altar, four pedestals, two desks and two flag stands, all of red oak.

Medina—The Medina post office force now hopes for a favorable recommendation for a new building. District postal inspectors on a recent visit had to climb over sacks of incoming mail in order to reach the postmaster's office.

Ithaca—Commander Richard Evelyn Byrd, who flew to the North Pole and back, cherished a boyhood hero in Ross G. Marvin, a member of the class of 1905 at Cornell. Marvin lost his life while in the Arctic with Peary's last expedition. While here on a speaking engagement, Commander Byrd placed a wreath on the Marvin memorial tablet which hangs in Sage Chapel on the Cornell Campus.

Steamer Norwich Sank Three Times

Interesting History of Norwich, Famous Ice Breaker, Recalled by Events Which Occurred Twenty and Ten Years Ago.

Passing her last days resting on the mud of the Tucker dock at Port Ewen lies the old ice king, the Norwich slowly rotting to pieces after one of the most memorable careers of any Hudson river steamboat. In 1923 the Norwich was sold to Michael Tucker of Port Ewen to be junked and since that time she has lain off the Tucker dock where she sprang a leak and sank. The depth of water, however, is not great and the entire upper structure of the vessel is above water.

The Norwich is recalled by two items in the "Twenty and Ten Years Ago" column in The Freeman Monday evening. The first item is under the date of April 3, 1907, twenty years ago, stating that the Baxter Wrecking Company was at work raising the Norwich which had burned the previous fall. The other item dated April 3, 1917, ten years ago, called attention to the fact that the Norwich, which had sprung a leak some time before and sank, was being raised.

The Norwich was built in 1836 for passenger service between New York and Norwich, Conn. Being found too small for the Sound service she was sent to Kingston where she was used for towing barges between Albany and New York. She was the last of the old side-wheel type of tow boat.

She was famous for years as an ice breaker and was used to keep the river open between Kingston and Albany in the winter. The old, side-wheel, owing to the construction of her hull, was able to run her prow up on the ice field and the weight of the craft would break a channel through the ice gorges that form each winter below Castleton.

The Norwich played a prominent part in the Hudson-Fulton celebration and was in the parade up the Hudson river. She was then retired from active service, but a few years later was again placed in commission by the Cornell Line to assist in hauling the increased towing on the river. In November, 1923, she sprung a leak and workmen were placed on board her to keep the pumps going until Mr. Tucker was ready to beach her on the flats at Port Ewen.

Plattekill Grange to Meet.

On Saturday evening, April 9, the regular meeting of Plattekill Grange will be held. Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Wilkins, Wilmon; Deniston and Mrs. Charles Everett are in charge of the program, which promises to be good. A debate is scheduled on the following topic: "Resolved, that the average New York state farm boy of today will find greater opportunities in farming than in town or city occupations." The contest will be a lively one. Three judges have been chosen to decide the result. There will be musical numbers and other interesting features. The refreshment committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hedger, Mrs. Ralph Bowler, Mr. and Mrs. George Eckert, Mr. and Mrs. James Fowler.

6 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY THE ERSKINE SIX CUSTOM FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

F.O.B. FACTORY

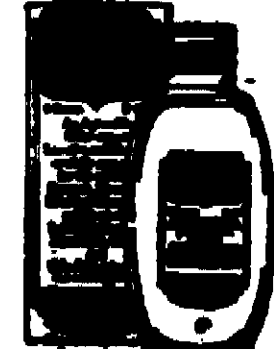

- 1 All steel body, custom design, with deep drawn steel stampings forming beautiful curved lines at the back, and curved side members carried over the top, constituting the finest possible body construction. Body trimming of Bedford cord and broadcloth. Novel instrument board in duotone colors, with cigarette and glove boxes built in, gasoline gauge and customary instruments. Fine hardware and interior decoration. Entire body much superior to any competitive $1,000 job ever offered in America. Comparisons are urgently invited and will prove convincing.
- 2 Chassis of modern simplified design. Material and workmanship of Studebaker quality throughout, comparable to the finest obtainable. Self-energizing four-wheel brakes, nickel plated bumpers front and rear, motorometer, beautiful crown fenders, and numerous other quality features never before furnished in a $1,000 car.
- 3 Beauty and smartness characterize the car. The body, fenders and general outlines were designed by R. H. Dietrich, one of the foremost custom body designers of the country. The car has irresistible style appeal. It created a sensation at all of the European automobile shows and the shows in this country, where it was viewed by over two million people.
- 4 The performance of the car is remarkably efficient and much superior to most, if not all, cars in the $1,000 field. It will accelerate from 5 to 25 miles in 8½ seconds, climb an 11% grade in high gear and develop 60 miles per hour. It is free from mechanical defects and will stay out of the repair shop.
- 5 The car is well balanced, with scientific spring suspension and seat cushioning. The result is the superior riding qualities of the big, high priced cars. In riding comfort, the car is equaled by few, if any, small cars on the market.
- 6 The price of $995 f. o. b. Detroit is low compared with half a dozen other Studebakers selling for more money. Actual comparisons with such cars, ranged alongside an Erskine, will demonstrate the truth of this assertion.

If you appreciate quality and value, examine and drive an ERSKINE SIX before you buy any car this Spring

"HERO TO HIS VALET"

James E. Amos, a negro attendant of President Roosevelt, has written a book of reminiscences—or a convenient scribe has written it for him
 —invitingly entitled, "Theodore Roosevelt: Hero to his Valet." A review indicated that Amos, or
 "James" as his employer called him,
 was most impressed with two events which occurred during his service in the White House. One was the dismissal of two regiments of negro troops for "shooting up" Brownville, Texas—and of this Amos approved. The other was the luncheon to Booker T. Washington at the White House—and of this Amos,
 who was in attendance at that luncheon, disapproved.

"I don't mean you made the mistake," the free-spoken servant says
 he told President Roosevelt. "I criticize Booker Washington for accepting your invitation. He must have known that the affair would bring you—a true friend of the colored race—a lot of unfriendly criticism. He had plenty of time to think it over and he could easily have found an excuse not to accept the invitation."

HIGH COST OF CONVERSION.

According to the Rev. Hough
 Houston it costs $4,000 to make a Methodist in New York city. It is not stated whether at this figure there is any guarantee of the permanency of the job. No scandal seems to attach to the mode or cost of the process of making New York Methodists and there is only an implied criticism of the high cost of conversion in the great city. The presumption is that only fair and honest means are used—logical, persuasive, spiritual, with possibly an occasional shaking of the big stick of future punishment in another world, with a mild snuff now and then of the fumes of metaphorical brimstone. Yet were the making of Methodists in New York placed on a quantity production basis, as Henry Ford would say, the aggregate cost of making say 100,000 Methodists would be appalling unless substantial reduction could be made by applying the process to large lots. Unless such reduction could be brought about the making of 100,000 Methodists would cost the staggering sum of $400,000,000.

Apply these figures and methods
 to other forms of education, propaganda and conversion and we find some striking contrasts. Perhaps as necessary as Methodism or any other particular religious sect is good government. On this question men have as sincere convictions as they have on sect and creed and it is as desirable that those who have the right convictions bring others over to their way of thinking if we are to have honest and efficient administration of the affairs of the city and country.
 To the end that this be brought about it is essential that more than 100,000 voters in New York city be persuaded to vote the Republican ticket. But what a howl there would be were it confessed that the Republican organization had expended $400,000,000 in an effort to convert 100,000 Tammany and Socialist voters!

Not infrequently a million voters change their minds in a national election campaign and half that number have changed their minds in a state campaign. Nobody ever changed that 24,000,000 was spent in a national campaign, although this would be at the Methodist rate of $4,000 each, the cost of changing 1,000,000 voters. In none of these changes branch about or attempt and propaganda that cost more than $4,000 per head had been applied to change the thinking of a million publican, or the reverse. Yet many Methodists raise their hands in holy horror at the "huge corruption funds" expended in payment for political conversions that are fully as necessary and as justifiable as the coaxing or dragging of reluctant converts into the fold of the Methodist or any other sect of religionists.

 Just why it is praiseworthy to spend money at the rate of $4,000 a head to bring men into a sect while it is the deepest and darkest form of villainy to spend much smaller sums in educating voters politically is not easy to explain.

LISTER.

The civilized world on this day,
 April 5th, 1927, is celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Lord Lister, the famous surgeon.
 Lord Lister was a wonderful surgeon, did clean brilliant work in the hospital operating room, and yet the terrible hospital gangrene often followed, and the patients died. Only one person in three with an amputation of the leg through the thigh lived to tell the tale. And yet where a patient was too sick to be removed to an hospital, and there did not appear much chance to save the life,
 the patient recovered from the operation in a short time.

Lister thought that perhaps it was the dirt in the hospitals in those days that was causing the trouble, and had everybody wash their hands before handling surgical patients.
 Still the deaths continued.
 It was an article by Pasteur on putrefaction in which putrefaction was said to be caused by living ferments, that gave him his idea.
 Learning that a nearby city had been destroying the odor of its sewage with carbolic acid, Lister made an investigation, and decided that carbolic acid would kill the organisms and prevent gangrene. He made his hospital in Glasgow the healthiest hospital in the world, and although his professional brethren in Great Britain were slow to recognize the value of his work, its value was proven in other countries, and finally Great Britain acknowledged the debt owing to him in the saving of thousands of lives.

As David Masters puts it, "It was Lister and Lister alone who cleansed
 the hospitals of the world."
 And yet Lister was big enough to acknowledge publicly that anything and everything he had accomplished was due to the inspiration
 he received in reading Pasteur's
 "Researches on Putrefaction."
 It is only fitting then that in this hundredth anniversary, the world should show reverence to the memory of a man whose keen-sightedness has saved thousands of individuals from the agony and death of gangrene.

DAILY LESSONS IN ENGLISH.

By W. L. Gordon.

Words often misused: Don't say
 "we called upon him yesterday."
 "On" is preferable.
 Often mispronounced: valet. Preferred pronunciation is va-let, a as in
 "at", e as in "let", accent first syl-labable.
 Often misspelled: reciprocity, two
 c's, no s's.
 Synonyms: indifferent, cold, unconcerned, phlegmatic, listless.
 Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering
 one word each day. Today's word:
 Contemplate, to consider with continued attention, meditate on.
 "These things I mention are pleasing to contemplate."

A. B. C. Locates
In New Building

Growth of Work of Organization
 Which Furnishes Advertising
 World With Information About
 Worthwhile Newspapers Requires
 More Space.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations
 is now engaged in moving its headquarters from the Century Building to the eleventh floor of the new Builders building, Wacker Drive and La-Salle street, Chicago. Movers began to pull down the machinery in the printing plant on March 26 and the complete transfer of all equipment will be accomplished by April 15.

The A. B. C. is the cooperative organization to which practically all the worthwhile publications of Canada and the United States belong and through which they report to the advertising world regarding the size and distribution of their circulations and their methods of winning and holding subscribers. In addition to the publisher members, of which The Freeman is one, the Bureau has in its membership most of the great national advertisers and important advertising agencies of the continent. Its managing director is O. C. Harn, for 21 years advertising manager of the National Lead Company.

The Builders building is one of the great new structures which were started before the completion of Wacker Drive, an upper-level thoroughfare running along the southern shore of the Chicago river, which is recognized as the most desirable location for office buildings in the business section. The Builders of Chicago united to erect the structure and it is looked upon as one of the finest and best arranged in the city. The Bureau's lease will run for six years.

Adds to Efficiency.

This move will be in keeping with the rapid expansion of the Bureau and will add to its efficiency. For the first time in its 12 years, it will have its entire plant—its printing shop, its mimeographing room and its general office—on one floor. Its printing shop has been housed in the Rand-McNally building about half a mile from the Century building. The mimeographing room has been on the floor above the general office, requiring many trips up and down stairs daily. Furthermore, the new offices will be much more commodious than the old.

Under the terms of the lease, the Bureau has been permitted to install a new type of linotype machine,
 which will enable it to save considerable money which it had to spend heretofore to have type set in other shops. With the new equipment, practically all its printing can be attended to at the headquarters. This printing attains large proportions annually, as millions of blanks, etc., must be turned out. Besides, the office force must attend to much of the work connected with publication of the three semi-annual Blue Books
 —the large volumes in which the publisher's statements are compiled and indexed for the convenience of the advertiser and advertising agent members. As there are plenty of windows in the new printing shop, no day-time work will have to be done with artificial light.

Work is Extensive.

With more than 1,450 publisher
 members who report semi-annually
 through the Bureau and whose circulation records must be examined and reported upon annually by the Bureau's travelling auditors, the work carried on at headquarters is both extensive and detailed. The force consists of about 100 men and women, including a dozen employed at the New York city office, 152 West 42nd street. While half the force consists of traveling auditors, some of these are constantly in Chicago
 and require desk space.

Big business in Chicago, just as in New York city, is advancing northward from the old business section and the Bureau, in moving its headquarters several blocks in that direction, finds itself in the company of most of its local members. The Tribune Tower rises a few blocks to the east of the Builders Building,
 while the new building of the News will soon stand a few blocks to the west. The offices of the Herald-Examiner and of the Post are a little further southwest. Many of the advertising agent members are already housed in Wacker Drive or in North Michigan Boulevard and other streets in the Drive's vicinity.

DE FLOX COMING HOME.

Raymond Goff Expect Ready to Meet
 Local Talent.

Frank DuPont of Johnston avenue, this city, who has been spending the winter months in Florida, writes to a friend in Kingston that he and his wife will leave for the north shortly, arriving home about April 15, when he will resume his real estate business here. Mr. DuPont states that he was at Daytona Beach at the time Major Segrave drove the Mystery Sunbeam automobile over 284 miles an hour. He describes the beach as the best in the world and says that there were at least 1,000 cars parked on the drive to witness the speed test. No cars were allowed on the beach at the time of the test. While at Daytona Beach Mr. and Mrs. DuPont drove to nearby Ocala and Mr. DuPont went fishing, capturing the fish of large size, one a trout weighing 15 pounds and a panfish and the other 10 pounds 6 ounces. The fish were caught at Halloway canal, which connects both of the Indian rivers and the spot is known as "Pinebush's Paradise."
 The place is located 49 miles south of Daytona Beach.

Mr. DuPont also writes that he has broken the best horse-show record in Daytona and is ready for the best in Ulster county when he arrives home.

The trip southward will be made by way of Jacksonville, Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and New York.

Eleanor Gunn Says

Palm Beach—The cardigan sweater in plain or horizontal-striped effect is an important item in the wardrobe of any woman this season.

Ribbon trimmings are now used on sweater and other dresses, and grown-up in three to five shades makes an excellent arrangement.

A flower on the shoulder seems to be necessary, even with a sweater. Consequently, those worn for evening must be exceptional. Brilliant studded flowers of rhinestones, marcasite or spangles are the latest.

The combination of two or three shades of blue is as smart as any.

The robe de style, with its long full skirt, is the newest thing for evening. If Palm Beach is a criterion.

Gunmetal and gray stockings in the darker tones are gaining in favor, as gray becomes more generally worn. Gray stockings are also worn with other colors.

The square scarf, usually called the bandanna, continues in the mode, especially in bold plaid designs.

Two-piece dresses are now made of crepe satin, and are often trimmed with or made in part of the dull side.

Very large felt hats are smart. They are usually banded with contrasting velvet ribbon tied in a large bow at the right side.

Some of the newer felts have crowns creased like a man's fedora. (Copyright, 1927, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service, New York.)

"While There's Life—"

Life in this old vale of tears and laughter, especially the former, is discouraging in some ways and we have devoted twenty-five years, hand-running, to trying to estimate sufficient fact to convince wife's relatives in a nice way that it wouldn't be convenient to have a visit from them at the time mentioned, and look at us now.—Ohio State Journal.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

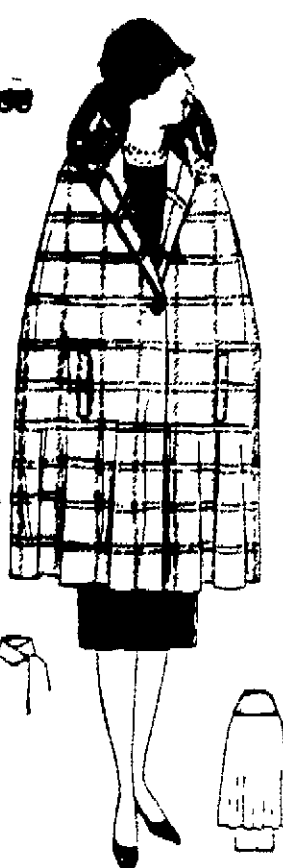

HATS GIVE LIFE TO COSTUMES—OFTEN USED WITH BEIGE OR GRAY—FELT REMAINS SOCIETY'S FAVORITE

Palm Beach—While hats still follow the practice of matching the balance of the costume, there seem to be many red hats that are called upon to add the necessary life and color to costumes of such neutral tints as beige or gray. Both very beige and gray are headliners for spring, and since the red hat is so charmingly a foil, it seems only sensible to seize the opportunity of having one. As a rule, such a hat is flattering.

Felt continues to be society's favorite. Some very wide-brimmed felts banded with velvet ribbon bowed to the right side have recently appeared. The smaller felts often have crowns that are patterned after a man's fedora. While grosgrain ribbon is the premier choice for trimming, there begins to be a feeling for bands of painted broad feathers, and for little flat feather pads nestled against a close-fitting brim.

The Best Way of Preparing Delicious Vegetable Hash A Genuine Treat

VEGETABLE HASH

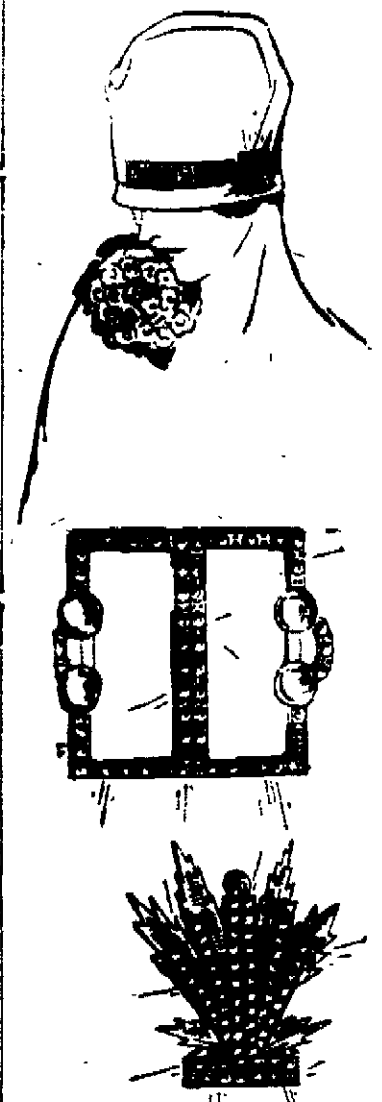

1 pint chopped cooked potato 1/2 cup white sauce
1 pint mixed cooked vegetables 1/2 cup Mazola egg sauce

THE mixed vegetables may be any kind, as cooked carrots, turnips, cabbage, beets, peas, chopped string beans, lima beans, stewed corn, onions, etc. If cooked onion is not among the vegetables, a little raw, minced onion should be added. Combine the ingredients. Heat the Mazola in a medium-sized frying pan, pack in the hash an inch deep and fry until browned.

MANY jokes have been coined about hash—but in the case of Mrs. Allen's hash (see recipe above) the joke is on the person who doesn't try it.

You will also get an idea why Modern Housewives prefer Mazola for frying—because foods fried in it are greaseless when ready to serve—because Mazola is an absolutely pure vegetable oil, pressed from the hearts of fully-ripened corn kernels.

Once you try Mazola for frying you will never go back to the old fashioned way of frying with animal fats.

MILLINERY AND DRESS ORNAMENTS ARE FASHIONED OF STRASS AND PEARLS

Leaves of Jade Color Add Interest to the Hat Ornament Illustrated Above. Which is Scintillant with Bands of Strass.

The Double Buckle Below, of Rhinestones and Large Pearls, is an Effective Dress Trimming.

Wide-brimmed straws are still worn, but for town and practical wear generally, the close-fitting felt, in its many manifestations, provides variety.

Berets and toques, not conspicuous at Palm Beach because one finds a shadowy brim more kindly, are to be reckoned with for town wear.

There has been some talk of jeweled hat trimmings. An occasional hatband with a lattice work of pearls has been noted, but there are hardly enough of these to warrant any great furor. The smart skull cap type of hat frequently has pendant ornaments that simulate long earrings. One occasionally sees the upstanding shell pins launched early in the season by Rebour, but these are nearly always affected by older women.

So quick!
So easy for busy mothers!
and so good for the children

The breakfast long known to be wonderfully good for children is now easy to prepare. Hot oatmeal! You can have it cooking on the table in the time it takes for coffee.

No longer is it necessary to get up early to start it—or to remember to cook it just the night before.

For Quick Mother's Oats is prepared in such a way that it needs only 2 1/2 to 3 minutes of cooking.

For growing children especially a simple breakfast of hot oatmeal with milk has the approval of child health specialists. Because normal growth is now known to depend less on quantity of food than food.

Have this nourishing, easy breakfast tomorrow.

Two kinds—the kind you know as Instant Oats (cooks in 2 1/2 to 3 minutes). Both with complete interchangeability with the Aunt Jemima company, which are delicious for games, jewelry, rug, etc.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE WITCH

"I am going to tell you tonight," said Daddy, "a story about a little girl named Gretchen."

"She lived way off in Europe."

"She was very pretty, with yellow hair and big blue eyes."

"She was fat, too, and had a very jolly nature and laughed a great deal."

"Gretchen lived with her grandmother and granddaddy."

"She was very happy and had lots of little friends to play with all the time."

"In the evenings before she went to bed her granddaddy always told her lovely fairy stories, and when she went to bed she would dream she was with the fairies, playing games with them and dancing about as fairies do."

"In the attic of her home were a great many strange and quaint old things, but the thing which seemed to hold more mystery than anything else was an old cedar chest covered with horsehair."

"Gretchen never dared look in the chest for some reason she couldn't understand herself, though she often wondered what really was inside."

Out Stepped a Funny Old Woman.

"One night after her granddaddy had been telling her one of his wonderful stories and her grandmother had tucked her in her soft white bed Gretchen felt very wide awake."

"But before long she fell asleep, and a strange dream came to her."

"She dreamed she was up in the attic looking at everything in turn, but more than anything else she was gazing at the old cedar chest and wondering what could be within it."

"And as she was looking the lid opened, and out stepped a funny old woman with a wrinkled face."

"She wore a black shawl over her shoulders and a great big pointed black hat on her head."

"Gretchen was sure she was a witch. Soon she spoke in a very soft, clear voice, not at all gruffly, as Gretchen imagined she would speak."

"Little Gretchen, I have known you were always very curious to learn what was in the cedar chest."

"I live in it and have for years and years, for I am very, very old, as you can see."

"But my voice does not sound old because I am very happy, and so it does not get the chance to grow old."

"When you're asleep I come out of my chest and go to the parties the fairies give."

"Tonight I've come to tell you that you must never be afraid of the old cedar chest, but you must never look inside it."

"If you did my voice would change into the voice of an old woman, too, and that would make me very sad."

"So Gretchen promised, and the next day when she looked at the chest it did not frighten her, but she kept her promise and did not try to open the top, for she knew that would spoil the witch's greatest happiness—her voice, which was not old like her wrinkled face."

So Enough of Him

Tommy, aged five, had been playing hard all afternoon with his neighbor, and immediately after supper, started off again in the same direction.

His mother, remonstrating, said: "Tommy, you must stay home this evening, you've been gone all day."

Like a flash came the answer from Tommy: "Aw, mother, didn't you see what I was a baby?"

A Fond Parent

"Santa Claus brought me a baby sister for Christmas," said the little girl from next door.

"Wasn't that nice of him?" said the neighbor.

"Yes, and it's the only present me and Teddy got that he hasn't broken already, windin' it up and showing how it runs."

Can't Change Promise

Mother had promised Bobby she would take him to a show in the evening. When the time arrived, being rather tired, she said she had changed her mind.

Bobby, looking at her worried, saying: "You can change your mind, but can you change your promise?"

Not Yet Acquainted

When spinach was introduced into our baby's diet she forced her quivering mouth into a smile, and with tears running down her cheeks she ate it.

Bobby had a heart. "Mother, please don't make her eat it. You see, she hasn't yet acquainted with spinach yet."

Queen Without Crown Fails to Satisfy Girl

London. — Keen disappointment that the queen did not wear a crown was shown by a little girl patient when King George and Queen Mary visited a London hospital recently. "That's the queen," the governor of the hospital told a seven-year girl lying on a cot in a children's accident ward. "Oh, but she hasn't a golden crown!" exclaimed the child. The queen leaned over the cot to whisper: "My dear, I'm sorry I have left my golden crown at home; I have only a sort of crown"—pointing to her hat. Turning to the king, she said: "Come here, George. See a pretty little girl wonders why we are not wearing our crowns."

"This is the king, my dear," the queen said to the girl. The child's eyes sparkled as the king tilted her cheeks.

S FOR SALMON ARE BARRED BY OREGON LAW

Will Be Given Fighting Chance Wheels Are Abolished on Columbia River.

Hand, Ore.—By legislating out of existence the picturesque fish traps which have for forty odd years been the banks of the Columbia river is giving the game salmon the chance for life.

mechanical devices are out on the Oregon side of the river May 1 next. There have been traps in operation on the two sides of the river and while the law suspends only those on the Oregon side it affects about 90 per cent of the quantity taken annually.

One wheel alone had a record of catching 24,000 pounds of fish in 24 hours.

The nearly two generations that have been turning they have exterminated of many men but have exterminated an average of 10 to 3,000,000 pounds of fish annually.

salmon, swimming near shore and the swift currents, would be in the traps erected at various points, dipped up by the wheels positioned in troughs. Their caps on such a wholesale scale not only would capture to reach the traps to deposit their eggs and to the supply. Hatchery proprietors to provide inadequate equipment of the machines will bring the game Indians who still use the old style of fishing. In spring when they can be seen at various points, which is virtually the last left to them for getting a small supply of fish. When the game is gone, there will be more fish.

Boy Scout's Good Deed

San Diego, Calif.—Because James McDermott, twenty-one years old, the role of a good Samaritan, was arrested on a charge of stealing an automobile, it was revealed in a trial at St. Clair's court, where the boy was granted probation after having pleaded guilty to a technical charge of driving a car without the consent of the owner.

According to the probation officer's report in the case, McDermott received boyhood training in the city, and after he attained his majority he continued to remember the instruction of the boys' organization of a good deed every day."

When McDermott was walking on the park one day he noticed an article that apparently had been lost and he decided he would return it for that day by returning the car to its owner. The property of C. D. Bohmert, 1229 Moreland street, and McDermott was taken into custody for stealing a car, but later the officers were informed of the truth of his good deed philosophy when he proved that he had returned another car two days previously to its owner after the same had been reported stolen.

mechanism which he calls a "photometer." Prof. F. M. Anderson, the botany department at the University of Minnesota, is measuring the rate of photosynthesis in the leaves of plants. He discovered that the rate of photosynthesis is the highest during the day and the lowest during the night. This is because the leaves are exposed to light during the day and are able to absorb the light energy and use it to produce food. During the night, the leaves are not exposed to light and therefore cannot produce food. This is why the rate of photosynthesis is the highest during the day and the lowest during the night.

Troopers Take Over Patrol Work

Enforcement of Motor Vehicle Laws
From Motor Vehicle Inspectors to Troopers Who Will Enforce Patrols and Enforce Laws Strictly.

Patrol of the state highways and enforcement of the motor vehicle laws passed out of the hands of the motor vehicle inspectors on April first and is now in the hands of State Troopers. The motor vehicle inspectors who formerly patrolled the roads and enforced the laws in conjunction with the Troopers were relieved from that duty under the reorganization plan of the state department. Many of the motor vehicle inspectors were released from duty and only a sufficient number were retained to give tests and investigate motor vehicle complaints as they come to the attention of the department. The patrol of highways will in future be secured by State Troopers, additional Troopers being added to the six troops to handle the situation. The Troopers will not only care for motor vehicle violations but will do all kinds of law enforcement, whereas the motor vehicle inspectors confined their attention to motor vehicle violations.

In accordance with the new order local road patrols in this vicinity will be sent out next week and kept out until late next fall after the heavy traffic is over. The stationing of Troopers in this county will be somewhat different than in former years. All main highways will be patrolled by either motorcycle or horse-mounted men.

Patrols in Ulster County. These traffic patrols will go on duty next week when a motorcycle patrol will be stationed at Shokan to care for the Ashokan dam and main Oneonta highway. Another motorcycle man will be located at Lake Katrine to patrol the Kingston-Saugerties road, the river road as far as the Greene county line and also the new Palenville road which has recently been completed and over which there will be much traffic this season. Near Esopus there will be another man to keep in touch with traffic south of Kingston on the main highway and there will be men at New Paltz and Marlborough.

Horse-mounted patrols will be stationed at East Kingston. This patrol will assist the motorcycle man at Lake Katrine and patrol the brickyard section. Two men will be at Phoenixia to investigate inland complaints and to assist on the Kingston-Oneonta road. Two mounted men will also be located at Saugerties. In addition to these men there will be the usual station at Woodstock from which Sergeant James Cunningham will direct operations in the upper end of the county and at Highland where Sergeant John Lockhart will have charge of the southern portion of the county.

The Ellenville section will be under the Sullivan county patrol and a motorcycle man will operate in that locality from the Sullivan county division under Sergeant Hopkins.

With full responsibility for enforcement of the highway laws up to the Troopers, additional men will be sent out from headquarters during the summer months for week end and holiday patrols in addition to the men regularly stationed. These men will be sent out by Captain Fox from barracks to cover the much traveled roads.

Look For Road Hogs. Particular attention will be paid by the road patrols to the truck driver who hogs the roads and refuses to allow tourist traffic to pass. These truck drivers will be severely dealt with and the limit of the law imposed where the driver of a truck refuses to allow traffic to pass by hogging the center of the road.

Drivers operating their cars with but one headlight will find themselves in trouble and also those who drive without a tail-light. Illegal headlights will also be banned. The driver who persists in driving with dirty number plates or who has his plates attached so that the numbers are not clearly visible will also receive a warning and if the practice is repeated there will be severe punishment.

Using Dealer's Plates. Another matter to which particular attention will be paid is the practice of operating cars on dealer's plates. All dealer plates will be checked up and violations will be reported. The practice of some in operating cars with dealer's plates has prevented the state from collecting a considerable revenue and the abuse of dealer's plate privileges will be severely dealt with. There are but three purposes for which dealer's plates are issued: that of bringing cars from the factory, demonstration and for use of the new purchaser who is allowed five days in which to secure proper plates. Dealers are not permitted to operate cars for their own pleasure with demonstration plates.

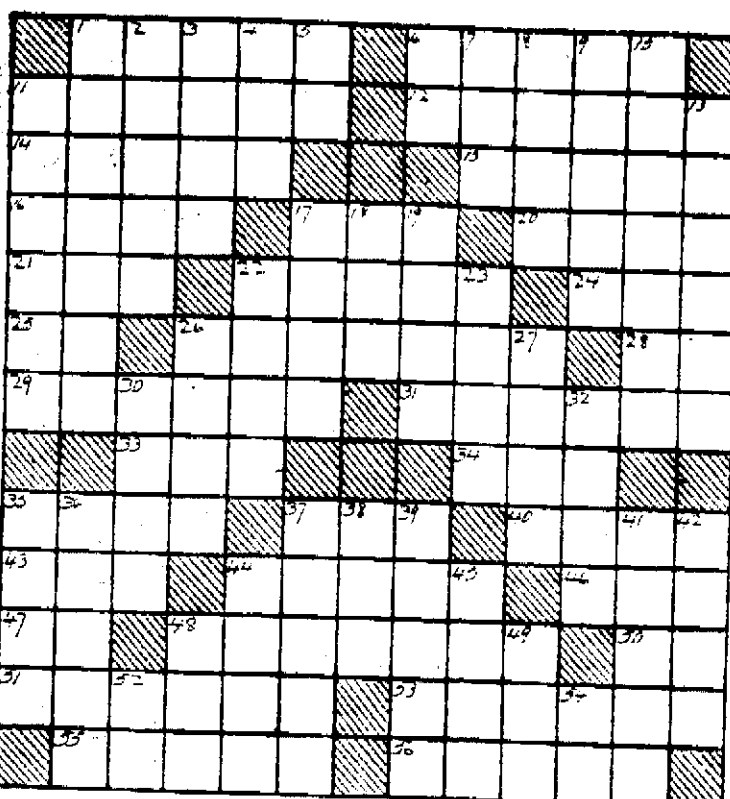

Various forms of motor car operation will be under ban. One which will be strictly enforced is the passing of another car on a turn and the passing of a car on a hill where the view is obstructed. Both these violations will receive very severe punishment where the offender is caught.

Egyptians Forbidden Wheat

An authority says that the reason the Egyptians did not use wheat, and therefore no traces could be found in their mummified stomachs, etc., was because their religion prohibited its use as a food. Although they have of the wheat, because they used wheat, which they learned with their feet, it is a bread known as spelt.

Petrone Shows His Superiority at White Eagle Bouts

Well Known Boxer Puts on Good Exhibition With Opponent—Big Crowd Pleased With Elaborate Program Which Includes General Kayos.

Before a crowded house at White Eagle Hall Monday night, Dominick Petrone and Mickey Romano put on a boxing exhibition that proved the worth of science and fleetness of foot to the spectators who received the performance with delight. Of course the boys had large gloves—8 ounces—specially constructed for Petrone's hands, which hindered in effect from being produced by some of the fast ones that both boys uncorried. The time of the exhibition rounds was limited to one and one-half minutes. Petrone manifested his superiority in the squared circle which has been gaining him much popularity in New York city of late by overpowering some of the toughest boys of the game. Romano had a tough time endeavoring to land his blows while Petrone showed skill at working his mitts from all angles. Romano landed most of his blows to Dominick's stomach.

Vosdick Kayos Martiriano. Among the kayos scored at the exhibition was one over Teddy Martiriano of New York, who went to the canvas from one of Joe Vosdick's rights. The occurrence took place in the fourth stanza of their scheduled 6-round battle.

In the opening round Martiriano displayed his skill at the art of boxing. Joe fought in a cool manner and landed whenever he saw an opening. He found several and his hefty wallop produced adverse effects every time Martiriano stopped one. In the second and third Martiriano endeavored to put over several fast ones and as a result Vosdick received the blows but they did not seem to slow him up in the least. In the fourth Vosdick caught his opponent with several neat ones to the face and stomach. Martiriano felt the effects and began to grow groggy. Joe took his chance at once and started for Teddy's head. Martiriano took the count of about 8 and when he again reached his feet Vosdick sent a pretty sleep-producing right to his jaw which dazed him for the full number of digits. Referee Cashin helped him to his corner where he was revived by his seconds. Martiriano weighed 146; Vosdick, 150.

Londos-Hart Bout Thrilling.

The Perry Londos, who battled in this city before, under the name of Al West, vs. Vince Hart fracas proved every bit as thrilling as predicted. Both boys proved that they were skillful in the main and the battle went the full six rounds. Hart was somewhat heavier than Londos but the little Greek stood up under the blows. At one time during the fourth stanza the fans thought Hart had his opponent ready for a kayo but the New York boy proved unhurt. Hart evidently tried for the great goal and went at his opponent in real flashy style. Londos stood toe to toe, however, and with his skill evaded a number of wallops which if they landed might have proven fatal. Hart's punches seemed to contain more of a kick than Londos' which was probably due to his excess in weight over Perry. The battlers received a hearty cheer as they left the ring with extra stress on the part of the Hart rooters. A kayo would seem the only way to settle the exhibition in order to award the contest.

Crowd Cheers Nuscoe and Sarkies.

The Joe Nuscoe vs. Mike Sarkies battle was a thriller and the fans were kept on edge every minute the boys were in the squared circle. Sarkies did considerable covering-up in the opening rounds while Nuscoe of East Kingston, who is really a newcomer in Kingston, having secured in but one exhibition here in the past, did most of the leading. In the third stanza Sarkies made a dash for his opponent but the trick did not work and as a result he met with a strong right jab which the crowd thought would produce the goods. However, Mike took all and showed no signs of weakness until the final rounds when his opponent also manifested tiredness. Both boxers worked for a kayo and it was difficult to hear the bell of the timer with the way the fans boisterously urged the battlers. The two tired scrapers were both doing their best in a hammer-and-tongs fashion when the gong sounded the time to quit. Nuscoe tipped the scales at 140; Sarkies had two pounds on his opponent.

Costello Makes Quick Kayo. It took "Coke" Costello of Port Ewen just one and one half minutes to overcome his opponent, Young Lucas of this city. Lucas has not had much experience in the ring and the veteran, Costello, had little trouble with him. A hard right from "Coke" spread Lucas on the canvas while Referee Cashin counted ten. All Lucas had was a good punch, but his handicap was a lack of scientific knowledge and he could not get away from Costello's dynamic wallops.

Myers Too Much for Mitchell.

Earl Mitchell of East Kingston and Joe Myers of this city put up a good exhibition until the third round when Mitchell was too exhausted to continue the scrap. In the first two, Earl did well with his strong wallops but they seemed to slip off his opponent's body. A hard right to the nose produced the red on Mitchell's face and slowed the hard hitter up considerably. Myers saw his opportunity and took it. He got Mitchell against the ropes and hammered him with lefts and rights. Referee Petrone called the affair off when he saw the plight that Mitchell was in. Myers manifested considerable skill during the encounter.

Duke Provides a Surprise.

A surprise opened the program. Kid Duffy of East Kingston and George Bowman went four rounds not previously scheduled but the Duke threw the match in for good measure and the pleasure of the fans. Duffy did most of the scrapping while Bowman took a defensive attitude and covered-up considerably. Duffy landed some dangerous wallops during the latter part of the fracas but the ones sent across in the opening rounds were well evaded by Bowman.

Other Entertainment Features.

The entertainment produced by Mickey Costello and the Armarello brothers pleased the gathering very much and the entertainers were obliged to respond to several encores. The three boys are radio broadcasters. Costello has sent guitar music over the air from several stations in Chicago while the Armarello brothers broadcasted from station WDBZ over several occasions. The show was one of the best put on in this city during the smoker season and the Duke Sporting and Athletic Club has received a goodly number of congratulatory remarks from pleased fans. Ed Cashin and Dan Petrone, a brother of Dominick, governed the bouts in a pleasing manner while Eddie Scherer did the announcing in a way which delighted the audience.

CONGREGATIONALS DEFEAT BLACK BOTTOM QUINTET

The Congregationals chalked up another win when they defeated the Black Bottoms on the Salvation Army court Monday night. The score at the end of the contest stood 24 to 22. Only once during the encounter did the Black Bottoms threaten to overcome the Congregationals, but the Congregationals started a rally just as their adversaries manifested the spirit and the Black Bottoms were kept in check. Hank Krom, of the Congregationals led the scoring list with 22 markers to his credit. Fifteen field and two foul shots were recorded by the tall center. Gaddis corralled the largest number of points for the vanquished aggregation. His total was 14.

Date Arranged for Women's Golf Event

The date of the first tournament of the newly organized Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Association has been fixed as the week of June 13. It has been announced by Mrs. Charles Herndon, secretary of the organization.

The date selected by the women's association corresponds to the date of the men's state tournament, to be played over the Meadow Lake course, giving Kansas City two tournaments the same week, both lasting throughout the week.

J. McGRAW STILL LEADS MANAGERS

Miller Huggins Has Now Won His Fourth Flag

Although the Giants have failed to finish in first place for the past two seasons, John McGraw is still far in front among the pennant-winning managers of the two major leagues. The New York leader heads the list of those who have won the major league championship from 1900 to 1926, inclusive, with a total of ten. He led the Giants home first in the National league races of 1901, 1905, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1917, 1921, 1922, 1923 and 1924.

Connie Mack of the Athletics is first in the American league and second in the two major leagues with a total of six pennants. As a result of the victories of the Yankees last year Miller Huggins has won his fourth pennant. He is now one of the five major league leaders who have won more than three championships. He is second to Connie Mack in the American league and he is tied for third place in the combined list of the two major leagues with Frank Chance of the Cubs and Fred Clarke of the Pirates. These two are tied for second place in the National league list with four pennants each.

The only other National league managers who have won more than one pennant are Wilbert Robinson and Pat Moran. Robinson led the Robins to the championship in 1916 and 1920. Moran brought the Phillies home first in 1915 and the Reds in 1919. He is the only manager on the list who has won pennants with two different clubs.

Following Mack and Huggins on the American league list comes Hughie Jennings, who won three pennants with the Tigers. Four managers are tied at two pennants each. They are Clark Griffith of the White Sox, Bill Carrigan of the Red Sox, Jimmy Collins of the Red Sox and Stanley Harris of Washington.

The list of pennant-winning managers follows:

Manager and Club	Pennants
John McGraw, New York	10

HOCKEY CHAMPS PREPARE FOR FINAL SERIES

New York, April 5 (AP).—Two National League group champions, Ottawa Senators and Boston Bruins, taped their hockey sticks afresh today for the final series in the annual Stanley cup playoffs for the world professional championship.

The Bruins won into the final round by beating the New York Rangers, champions of the American section during the regular season, 3 goals to 1, in Madison Square Garden last night. Ottawa was able to defend a season of pace-making in the international group with victory over Montreal Canadiens, although the contest last night resulted in a 1-1 tie.

Total goals scored during the two-game series measured the standard of the four teams and on that basis Boston was returned a winner 3 goals to one. Neither Bruins nor Rangers could score in their first meeting at Boston Saturday. Ottawa took a lead of 4 to 0 with the first win over Canadiens Saturday and ran the series advantage to 5-1 in the last night.

The championship series between Boston and Ottawa will open in Boston April 7. The teams will play 5 games if necessary with the world title conceded the winner of three tosses.

Instruments Necessary

The United States geological survey says that it is not possible for even an experienced surveyor to estimate the approximate height of a mountain from the base without the use of instruments.

McGraw-Heydler Fight Stirs League Magnates

National League magnates are being stirred up by the controversy between John Heydler (left), league president, and John McGraw (right), manager of the New York Giants, over Rogers Hornsby (center). Heydler threatens to bar Hornsby from playing with the Giants unless the star disposes of his stock in the St. Louis Cardinals, whereas McGraw, chin out five or six inches, avers, declares, asserts and avows that Rogers will play second for the Giants this season whether he sells the stock or not. Hornsby is too busy training to look for a buyer.

Few Nonswimming Animals

All animals excepting man, monkeys, and perhaps the three toed sloth, either swim naturally or go through the motions of swimming when suddenly immersed in water. There are, however, several animals that, although they swim naturally, drown as they swim. This is the case with rabbits, mice, moles and the smaller cats, drowning being the result of the fur becoming saturated.

Famous Picture Adorns Legion Memorial Here

Original of Picture Adopted by War Department was Gift of Artist to Col. Quackenbush Whose Widow Presented it to Local American Legion Post for Memorial Building.

A picture which will memorialize forever the brave heroes of the World War who fought and died in the great struggle for democracy hangs in the new American Legion Building of Kingston Post, No. 350, built and dedicated in 1926 in memory of those who gave their life's blood "over there."

Edwin Howland Blashfield, world-famed artist, put all his rare genius into the wonderful pencil drawing. At
